

Survey to settle lost or disputed boundaries.

It is agreed between the parties to this agreement to appoint A as surveyor to locate the boundary lines of _____ . A shall permit all of the parties to be heard in person and by any witnesses they desire to produce, either at the time the survey is made on the grounds, due notice of which shall be given to all the parties, or at any other time and place as may be designated by A, or both. A shall take into consideration all of the stones and corner markings to which [his or her] attention may be called by the parties or their witnesses, also previous surveys, fences, and any other facts which may have a bearing on the true location of the boundaries.
