

Survey to settle lost or disputed boundaries.

There is a controversy between the parties as to the true boundary dividing their adjoining lands.

_____ has this day selected _____, and _____ has selected _____ to survey and determine where the dividing line shall be between the parties, and to take the deeds made by _____ to _____, and by _____ to _____, and to go on the land and survey the dividing lines according to the deeds and any other evidence that _____ and _____ may deem necessary to arrive at a just and fair settlement of the dividing lines.

In the event that _____ and _____ fail to agree as to the dividing lines, they are to select a third person, and the decision of two or more persons shall be final and binding on the parties to this agreement.